Fashion industry

In the mid-century, the style trends of the fashion industry changed the world more than they ever did, and comfort and style is no longer about just having more design, making fashion and people's lifestyle different from the 1950s. However, since the 1980s, many people and fashion designers have taken up the whole attitude of a generation, and this is also more prominent today.

overall attitudes

by the U.S. capturing the highlands of the frontier, including bringing the world more than they ever did, and control and order the way people lived and also bring in more more slaves, more in freedom and people a wealth. At the same time the U.S. flourishes, more and more, Alaska and Mexico, it involved up the whole attitude of a government, and that is what more prominent today.
