SONGS OF

divinity

They were told her soul had opened her to some, and she's not afraid but is not alone. Her heart is unbound and her thoughts immense. That they may hear sing in their hearts to some truth or all of their being.

COLORS FROM A DISTANT LAND

The colors she wears in that faraway desert land, bring a new life into the black landscape. Her hues are concocted with a formula no longer of the behest of man. Her hues signify life in its grandiose splendor.

BRIGHTENING

the night sky

"All these small constellations, the little stars, they were waiting to shine for you, until you came along and showed them the way. You showed them how to shine. They were so small that you could see them. They were so small, with their own little lights, and they were so close to you."

ANGEL FROM
the artist

All names and descriptions are about names and titles used in the series - nothing should and can't be. And it's a beautiful picture of the community, surrounded by the light and love, they had around their feet & beyond. They want to be seen, with their hearts and stories in their hands.

The breeze and companions invaluable beyond the sun,
in walking through the sun,
that in a sophisticated culture of fashion making, surrounded by the light moments, they had created the joy beyond.
They want to be there, with flowers in their hearts, and shine in their eyes.

LIFE EVOLVES

from sand

They were a well-respected business family. The women making decisions and men too. And in a patriarchal culture of business making, surrounded by their legal advisors, they had assumed that just a legal "They used to be" clause with purchase in their documents would be enough to do it.

COLORS FROM

A DISTANT LAND

The colors she wears in that faraway desert land, bring a new life into the bleak landscape. Her hues are concocted with a formula no longer at the behest of man. Her hues signify life in a grandiose scenario.
